Digital Food Labels

Save time. Reduce waste. Label accurately.

Nutrislice Spotlight is a small but mighty digital food label solution that brings the right information, right to your customer, right at the items they're browsing. Provide accurate and real-time pricing, nutrition info, allergens, and special promotions at the moment of consideration. Change anything at any time online, or schedule convenient automatic updates - saving you and your team time, energy, resources, and maybe even some trees in the process. The future is bright with Spotlight.

An engaging experience your customers will love.

Give your customers the sustainable, convenient, and transparent experience they crave.

Promote sustainability.

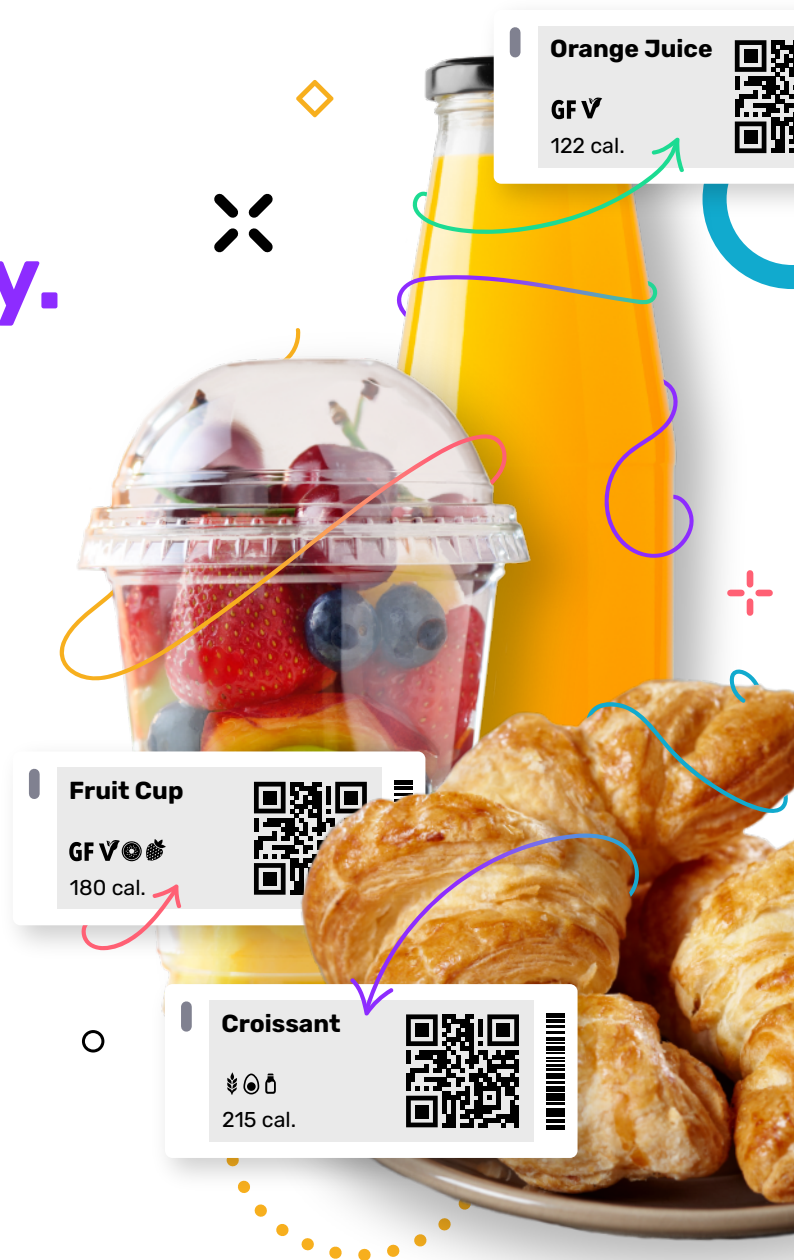

Eliminate the paper waste of static, printed (and sometimes sticky!) labels, strengthening the customer relationship with sustainable practices that meet their values.

Deliver a new level of convenience.

Spotlight digitally displays the exact information customers are looking for, right where they are looking for it... at the item. At-a-glance food information makes purchase decisions easier.

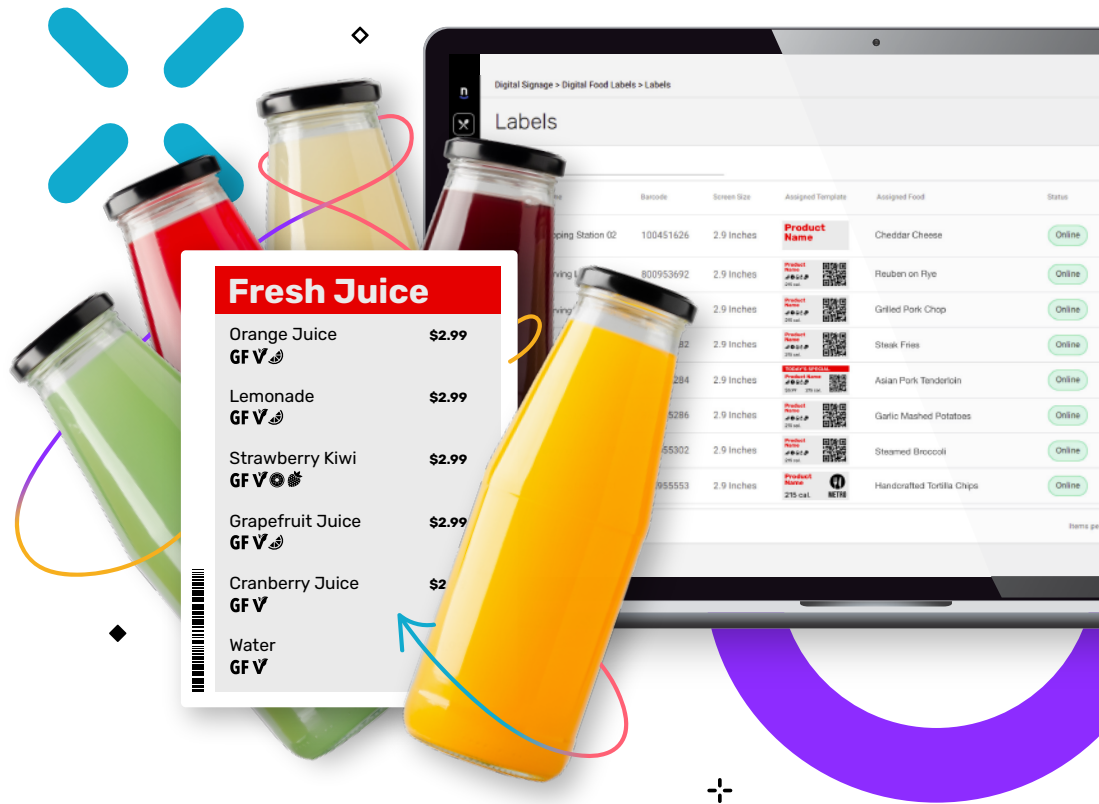

Increase customer trust.

Digital food labels inspire confidence and trust in the customer because they can see the real-time updates and accuracy for themselves.

A foodservice experience that's delightful to deliver.

It's time to trash static printed labels for good! Spotlight saves your operation time, energy, and resources while increasing labeling accuracy across serving lines, stations, shelf displays, and coolers.

Modernize your operation.

Spotlight digital food labels bring a new display technology to non-commercial foodservice that modernizes operations and increases customer engagement.

Improve operational efficiency.

Labeling is important, but it shouldn't be a heavy burden on your team. Get hours back in the day by eliminating the time, labor, and tedium spent on labeling and relabeling food items.

Show more info without the lift.

With updates applied within minutes, your digital labels can be as up to date as your menu data. Enjoy the freedom to display more information about items without risking accuracy and increasing workloads.
